YOUR FIRST LETTER

What I Want You to Know

There are things I want you to know, and I am writing them while I can choose the words.

GENTLE GUIDES:

· Say first the thing you have said a hundred times — it bears writing down.

· Then say the thing you have never quite managed to say out loud.

· Tell them what you believe about this family — and close by telling them where your letters will live.

Signed, in my own hand: _____ Date: _____

BEGIN YOUR CAPSULE

Ten Prompts to Start

No. 1
Your mother's hands, doing their daily work.

No. 2
The street you grew up on, house by house.

No. 3
A meal that meant home, and who made it.

No. 4
The first money you ever earned.

No. 5
A song, a year, a face across the room.

No. 6
Something small you kept for forty years.

No. 7
The kindest thing anyone ever did for you.

No. 8
A hard year, and how it ended.

No. 9
What grandma — yours — taught you without trying.

No. 10
One sentence you want carved into this family's memory.

THE FULL COLLECTION

When You're Ready for More

The Life Legacy Workbook

Six chapters of guided writing — roots, family, work, love, values, and the lessons that bend a life — with room for every story.

The Memory Capsule Prompt Deck

Prompts to carry in a drawer or a purse, one small door at a time, for the days the words need a beginning.

The Complete Legacy Vault System

The whole collection in one keepsake volume: the workbook, the prompt capsule, and five guided letters ready to seal.

Your story took a lifetime to live. It deserves more than a shoebox — give it a Vault.
